

BBA General Meeting Mar 10, 2016

There will be two short presentations tonight. John Coldwell and John Rochester.

Next meeting we will have Caitlin Gill our apiary inspector

Bee College was held in St. Augustine a few weeks ago. Six of our members participated in the Master Beekeeper Program and all six advanced to the next level. Congrats to Joyce j, John and Teresa Coldwell, Carl R, Bob B, and Dan N. During the College activities such as bearding took place. Quite an experience.

BeeLab donations still needed. As soon as $200k is raised form the private sector, the State will release $2 mil to start the BeeLab construction.

FSBA membership is highly encouraged.

Coming events include Water Matters Day, Coconut Creek Arbor Day, Deerfield Beach Springfest, and Earthfest in Coral Springs. Anyone wishing to volunteer, please contact Dan Novak

John Rochester showed us how bees regulate hive temperature both tto increase and decrease. Also ways we can assist with this

John Coldwell explained the differences between types of frames as well as the foundation that each uses. The use of color coded pins or tacks to assist in rotating frames.
